

Tairāwhiti Museum

The project was to provide Mechanical Services to the Extension to Tairāwhiti Museum located at 10 Stout Street, Gisborne.

The new extension to the museum added three new galleries which were connected to the existing galleries via automatic doors. The new galleries are air-conditioned by an Energy Products air handler with Black Diamond Technologies outdoor condensing units.

There is humidity provided to the galleries and the basement storage area by means of Carel humidifiers.